DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could cite instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery. Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne ; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT,
33, Great Russel-street, Bloomsbury, London.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 12.

REUTER reports rates of discount in London unchanged and Consols still at 100⅛. Indian loans are also unmoved, but in Paris French Rentes are quoted ¼ lower at 107¼.

In the Mincing-lane markets the general tendency is easier. Linseed is unaltered in price, as also is Rapeseed, with the exception of Calcutta brown ex-warehouse being quoted 6d. per quarter lower. Wheat is flat and London arrival quotations are reduced by 6d. to 1s. per quarter.

The Liverpool Cotton market yesterday was again strong, the day's sales being estimated at 15,000 bales, including only, however, 1,500 Surats. Americans are 1-16d. higher on the spot and 3-64d. to arrive, but Surats are unchanged except for an advance of 1-16d. quoted in Good Fair Dholleras. In New York ready Mid-Uplands are 1-16 cent. higher at 10 1-16, but futures are two points lower at 10·46 cents per lb. for March. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date are as follows :—

	1884.	1883.	1882.
Tuesday's receipts	45,000	31,000	33,000
Four days' do.	186,000	122,000	121,000
Total since 1st Sept.	1,788,000	1,947,000	1,790,000

The Cotton market here has again been very firm to-day with a good demand on the part of exporters, but owing to the firmness of sellers only a small business has resulted at an advance of Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy. In Old we hear of purchases of strict F. G. F. Bhownuggur at Rs. 176 and fully good at Rs. 190. Of New Crop for future delivery there are purchases reported of Good Julgaum for March at Rs. 180, and good Bengal for January at Rs. 148 per candy. The latter growth is coming to market very slowly, and the quality being very inferior sellers for November delivery will have some trouble in covering their contracts.

WHEAT is dull at unchanged prices, arrivals being now in excess of the demand.

LINSEED is firm at Rs. 6-12 per cwt.

FREIGHTS do not show any signs of early improvement. For Liverpool there is now practically no steamer on the berth, but the nominal quotation is still 30s. per ton. For December loading open charter 17s. 6d. is the current quotation.

PIECE-GOODS are firm, but the firm offer business at the moment is somewhat restricted by the adverse movement of exchange.

COALS continue very firm, but there is no change in prices to quote.

EXCHANGE.—With Bar Silver in London quoted ¼d. lower at 50d. per oz. and weak advices from Calcutta, the market here has been decidedly quiet with a decline of 1-16d. per rupee all round. This on the day of the biddings for Council drafts in London is ominous of the opinions entertained of the market in the immediate future, and if Government go on meeting the market we may see a further drop before a permanent reaction sets in. Closing rates for ready bills are :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 1-16d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 7d.	,,
Do. Three months' sight...	1s. 7¼d.	,,
Credits ,, ,, ...	1s. 7½d.	,,
Francs ,, ,, ,, ...	2·04½	,,

GOVERNMENT PAPER opened steady at yesterday's closing rates, and during the day with an active demand Fours were advanced to Rs. 99⅜. Fours-and-a-half are firm at Rs. 102¼.

SHARES.—Spinning Mills are firm, but quotations are generally unaltered. Bombay Bank shares are Rs. 2½ lower at Rs. 752½. In other companies we hear of no change.

DUKA, THRO' DUKI, Nov. 12.

I have already informed you that the Kibzai tribe had assembled in force, but they have since submitted. Several political prisoners, including Bussarat, nephew of Shah Jehan, his sisters, son, and his chief adviser, have been sent to Duki. The post at Sunjawi on the line of communications, which has been held by detachments of the 1st Bengal Infantry and the 5th Punjab Cavalry, has been moved to Kote, and the near route, via Kote and Baghai, opened to Duki. This route was discovered by Mr. Scott, of the Survey. Had it been previously known the force would have saved two marches on the route from Quetta.

MYSORE RAILWAY EXTENSION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BANGALORE, Nov 12.

It is rumoured in well-informed circles here that the Government of India's prohibition of the extension of the Tumkur Railway to Tiptur is made with the view of strengthening the proposal made by the Southern Mahratta Company to construct all the line necessary to complete it from the Mysore boundary at Hurryhur through Mysore territory to Goobi, and also to take over and work the existing State lines. The Government of India views this favourably, and it is not at all improbable that the transfer of the lines to the Southern Mahratta Company will take place.

Colonel Olcott in his lecture last night to the Bombay Branch of the Theosophical Society, said he was as yet ignorant of the Colomb affair, as he had not had an opportunity of reading the documents. It would be contrary to his instincts as a lawyer to pronounce any opinion whatever on the case until he had at least read the papers on one side, and probably he should withhold his opinion until he had read them on both sides. He added that he already had in his possession documents of the most compromising character against those who had allied themselves against "my revered and beloved associate, Madame Blavatsky," consisting of letters in their own handwriting, which, if he ever chose to bring them to light, would place the writers in a very different position before the public. Colonel Olcott leaves Bombay to-day for Poona, whence he goes on to-morrow to Madras. Here he will investigate for himself the allegations of the Colomba. Madame Blavatsky has already left London, and is on her way to India. She will not come through Bombay, but is to proceed direct to Madras, where she will be present next month at the annual convention of the parent society of the Theosophists.

Telegrams from Simla have already announced the departure of the Viceroy with Lady Ripon and staff for Pinjore. It appears that a guard of honour of the 2nd Goorkhas was drawn up at Government House on the occasion, and that the usual salute was fired. The members of the Municipal Committee and a number of other residents were present to say farewell to their Excellencies. The Viceregal party were timed to reach Pinjore at seven o'clock in the evening. They were to be the guests of the Maharajah of Pattiala during their stay there. His Excellency was expected at Umballa last evening.

The Calcutta Town Council have resolved to present a farewell address to Lord Ripon prior to his retirement from the Viceroyalty. It has also been decided to present an address of welcome to Lord Dufferin on his arrival in Calcutta.

Pondicherry, which at present is a veritable Sleepy Hollow, seems destined to be a place of considerable importance. Recently the French decided to make it a coaling station, and now we hear that it is intended to construct a harbour there, which it is said will cost upwards of a crore of rupees.

The correspondent of the Pioneer with the Zhob Field Force states that all in camp considered that the expedition was eminently successful in every way. The troops have marched over very extensive tracts of country; surveying and reconnoitring have been pushed in every direction; and it has been proved beyond question that the Zhob and Bori countries occupy a most important strategical position on our frontier. Those valleys are far more open than they were reported, and can consequently be readily occupied; but up to the present time no protection exists for the line of the Sind-Peshin Railway from attacks from these quarters. Shah Jehan is a fakir and a fanatic, and during the late Afghan War he attacked our troops at Bughoo and Kuch, and almost succeeded in destroying our line of communication. "The Government," it is added, "certainly cannot allow him to remain in power, and as the hereditary Chief, Shahbaz Khan, can secure a following the wisest course would be to induce the head-men to renounce their allegiance to Shah Jehan and pledge themselves to our protégé."

Yesterday we quoted largely from an article in the National Review by Arminius Vambéry on the subject of the delimitation of the Afghan boundary, and to-day we give the concluding portion. But the Pioneer points out that even Vambéry, who may be regarded as an expert in Central Asian affairs, may sometimes be found tripping. He talks of Colonel Ridgeway's party travelling "from Beluchistan to Mushki (a weary desert march), and from thence further across the parched steppe in a north-westerly direction to the shores of the Helmund, by the same road traversed last winter by Lieutenant Talbot and Major Sandeman on their voyage of discovery." The mistake here made arises, of course, from the confusion between "Nushki" and "Mushki." The route from Nushki to the Helmund was never traversed by Sir Robert Sandeman and Lieutenant Talbot; it was practically a terra incognita to us before Captain Maitland and Mr. Barnes began to examine it. "We can afford to smile now," the Pioneer remarks, "at the 'unavoidable and gigantic hards ips' which Vambéry foretold would have to be endured by the Mission. Thanks to the excellent arrangements made by the Political Officers and the Amir's officials, the desert march was shorn of all its terrors."

It is understood that the official report of the arbitrators on the recent fibre experiments in Calcutta will soon be in the hands of the Lieutenant-Governor. The object of the recent experiments was to ascertain if the rhea fibre can, by means of cleaning and preparation, be brought to a state fit for use by European manufacturers, for should such prove to be the case, it may be expected in a short time to command a prominent place as an article of commerce side by side with cotton or jute. The market value of the several specimens turned out by the competing machines will be ascertained both here and at home. This, it is stated, has already been done in a rough way as respects the local market, but the valuation will be obtained in a more regular and reliable manner both in the English and Indian markets.

Special provision is made in British Burmah for the education of children of European descent, by the offer of results and attendance grants at double rates, by the offer annually of 180 special stipends to enable orphan and fatherless children to obtain a free education, and by the offer annually of 30 paid apprenticeships in the railway and elsewhere. The number of children of European descent of schoolgoing age is estimated at 1,800. Of these 1,420 were actually at school on 31st March last, 111 being in receipt of Government stipends. The apprenticeships have not hitherto been very freely taken up. Eight apprenticeships have been awarded in Rangoon, and the apprentices are all doing well. At the railway workshops at Insein, Mr. Thomas has a class of 20 European apprentices who are not in receipt of any special stipends from Government. The class is admirably managed, and has so far been highly successful both in the interests of Government and in those of the lads under training.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago the District Judge of Colombo ruled that a certain Lieutenant in the garrison of Colombo could not be arrested for debt. It is understood that the Ceylon Government have now under consideration the question relating to the liability to arrest of Her Majesty's servants in that island, with the view of legislating on the subject.

There have been severe storms in Ceylon, and a correspondent of a Colombo paper says that in Jaffna alone the fallen trees are estimated at 60,000, and the total loss to the province, in both Government and private property, at about Rs. 5,00,000.

The King of Italy has conferred the distinction of "Knight of the Crown of Italy" upon Deputy Surgeon-General Francies Day, formerly Inspector-General of Fisheries in India and last year Commissioner for the Indian section of the Great International Fisheries Exhibition.

In the Legislative Council at Singapore there have been several debates on the Bill for the protection of Indian immigrants. In the debate on the 10th ult. several unofficial members took exception to certain clauses which interfere with the free emigration from the Colony of natives of India, whether coolie labourers or not, who may travel second class without a certificate from the Immigration Agent to show that they are not subject to the Indian Immigration Ordinance, 1884. The Bill was eventually read a second time.

The defenceless condition of Singapore and the Straits of Malacca has for some time past been a source of great anxiety to the inhabitants, especially as a war is being waged almost at their very doors, and the announcement of the decision of the Home Government to take measures for placing them in a proper state of defence has given the liveliest satisfaction. The Straits Times declares that all the money that has been spent in building forts to protect the coaling stations at New Harbour is just so much money wasted. The forts are useless against modern breech-loading rifled guns. An overwhelming force could be landed at half-a-dozen points on Singapore Island, and marched in over excellent roads, while the place has only about two-thirds of the regiment it pays for, and a battery of artillery with guns nearly as dangerous to the men working them as to an enemy, to resist them, and they could therefore enter and occupy the town and coaling stations unopposed.

One of our recent telegrams about the Franco-Chinese war mentioned the fact that German officers and English engineers were in the Chinese service. From the China papers received yesterday we learn that at Port Li there are three Germans in command—Schnell, of the infantry, Hanneken Senior, who is in charge of the forts and redoubts, and Hanneken Junior, who has charge of the port entrance batteries. For the guns of the cruisers and gun-vessels there are two or three English-men for overlooking. The Chinese seem to be in good heart, and having foreigners over them are likely to "show fight."

Through carelessness or ignorance the Chinese have lost an opportunity of doing incalculable mischief to the French fleet. It appears that the Chinese laid down a large number of torpedoes in the river Min, but forgot to put in the fuses. The French fleet on proceeding into the river took up several torpedoes, and finding that the fuses had not been put in, went on without fear. The Chinese ashore, seeing the vessels pass over the torpedoes, thought they had the French ships in their power, and pressed down the levers of their electric batteries in order to explode the torpedoes, but to their great chagrin, they found there was no explosion, and the French men-of-war passed over unharmed. They came to the conclusion that they had been cheated by the foreigners who supplied the torpedoes, and that there were not the necessary ingredients inside. However, after their forts had been smashed up, and they were at liberty to take up the torpedoes and examine them, they came to another conclusion, for they found in every case that the safety plug was left in, and no fuse attached. The torpedoes were laid down by foreign-educated Chinese, and but for this stupid omission, might have done some damage.

A.—The following is a report of cases prosecuted by the agents of the Bombay Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, during the week ending 8th inst.:—Horses, sores on body 1, sent to Pinjrapole 2; donkeys, emaciated 4; bullocks, lame 26, sore neck 23, tumours on neck 6, emaciated 14, sores on body 11, cruelly beaten 1, overloaded 2, goading 12; total number of cases 105.

The Alleged Defalcation by a Signaller.—At the Fort Police Court yesterday W. Weir, a signaller in the Government Telegraphs, appeared before Mr. Jayaker and surrendered himself, the police having obtained a warrant for his arrest. Mr. Twashaw, Superintendent of Telegraphs, also appeared before the magistrate and stated that he withdrew the charge against Mr. Weir. It is stated that Mr. Weir has satisfactorily accounted for the money under his charge that was reported to be missing. He was therefore discharged.

Enticing away a Married Woman.—Nunna Shahadutbux, a weaver living at Khetwady, was yesterday convicted by Mr. F. Ryan of enticing away Allarakhee, the wife of Peer Mahomed Shaik Ismail, on the 7th inst. The prisoner on the date in question enticed the woman to Panwell, and while endeavouring to dispose of some of her silver ornaments to a goldsmith there he was arrested by the Colaba police. The prisoner said that the woman left her husband of her own accord. He was sentenced to three months' simple imprisonment.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

Simla, Nov. 12.—The barometer has risen at Peshawur, in the east and south-east of the Punjab, at Jeypore, and over the whole of the North-West Provinces, Bengal, Assam, and the greater part of the Central Provinces. It has fallen elsewhere, the decrease being greatest in Kurrachee, Jacobabad, and Indus stations of the Punjab, attributable to the shallow depression lying over Sind, which is apparently the development of the low pressure area noticed over the Punjab yesterday. Winds show feeble cyclonic circulation around the depression, but in other respects are unchanged. The sky is more or less cloudy in Assam, Lower Bengal, Madras, Mysore, Ceylon, and Arakan. It is clear or nearly so elsewhere; while rainfall, with the exception of slight showers at Chittagong and False Point, is confined to the Carnatic, Mysore, and Ceylon. Rain today:—Wellington, Coimbatore, and Mercara, over 1 inch. Previously, Negapatam, Tuticorin, and Colombo, 1 inch; Chitaldrug and Trichinopoly over ½ inch.

CHARGE OF MURDERING A DANCING GIRL.

At the Fort Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Jayaker, Superintendent Brewin charged Peera Dutta, Sheik Ahmed Alladin, Syed Abbas Ali, and Abdoola Joosa with wilfully causing the death by poison of a dancing girl named Fazul Nisha. At the inquest regarding the death of the deceased woman has not concluded, the case was adjourned for a fortnight, the prisoners being remanded to jail.

INSPECTION BY THE FACTORY COMMISSION.

The members of the Factory Commission met yesterday morning at the Pydhonee police station with a view to proceed on an inspection of some more of the minor factories in Bombay that were not visited during the first inspection on Wednesday, the 5th inst. The members who attended yesterday were Mr. W. B. Mulock, C. S., the president of the Commission, Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, and Khan Bahdoor M. C. Murzban, with Mr. James Jones, the Inspector of Factories.

The first place visited was the wool-cleaning factory of Dewjee Beerjee, Pinjrapolelane. Some ten or fifteen women were at work picking wool, but the owner of the factory informed the Commission that all his hands had not arrived. They came at about 9 or 10 a.m., and were 100 or 120 in number, 10 males and the remainder females. Ten of them were children varying in age from 7 to 10 years, who generally came with their mothers. From 20 to 22 lbs. of wool were given to each woman to clean, and until finished her wages, two annas, were not disbursed. There was no machinery in the factory, which was a two-storeyed one. The wool came from all parts from Australia to Malwa. The factory, in the opinion of the Commission, was fairly ventilated, but with all the hands at work, the dust must be very great. There were no latrines on the premises. The woman stated that she had been at work for fifteen years without any ill-effects. The establishment had only been recently opened.

The next factory visited was the paper mills at Girgaum. There was no fencing to the engines, fly wheel, crank shaft, or main shaft. The principal engine was of 20-horse power, and the engineer had a second-class certificate. Fifty hands were employed, of which 30 were women, difficulty being considered. The men worked from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the women from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. All the engines, machinery, and shafting in the mill-room were unfenced and very dangerous. The rag-choppers were fed by women, and there was heavy dust from the dirty old rags must, it was thought, prove injurious. The rags were boiled after being chopped; but if boiled before being chopped, the likelihood of infection would be much diminished.

The Bapty Flour Mills were next visited.

PAREL SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY.

The third ordinary general meeting of this company was held yesterday afternoon in the Fort, when Mr. M. de Quadros presided. The following was the report of the directors which was submitted to the meeting:—

The directors have the pleasure to lay before the shareholders the audited balance sheet, together with profit and loss account, for the year ending 30th June, 1884, showing a net profit of Rs. 20,240-5-8, including the balance of Rs. 881-14-11, brought forward from the previous year's account. Out of this sum your directors recommend the payment of a dividend of Rs. 15 per share on the old shares, and Rs. 7½ per share on the new shares, which will absorb Rs. 18,210; to transfer to preliminary expenses account Rs. 1,500, and to carry forward the balance, Rs. 530-5-8, to next year's profit and loss account. The directors regret to state that the amount of profit of this year is considerably less as compared with the last year, but this is in consequence of the break-down of the grass shaft of the engine, which caused a stoppage of work for some time, and the great depression that has been prevailing in the markets for yarns both here and in China, and the high price ruling for raw cotton. The directors have to inform shareholders that in April, 1883, Mr. Framjee Bomanjee Jeejeebhoy filed a plaint against this company and obtained an interim injunction restraining the company from working the mill in such a manner as to occasion nuisance to the plaintiff or any person occupying his premises at Nos. 1 and 2 Sopari Baugh-road (next to our mill), by the discharge or escape of dust, cotton, fluff, &c. Every effort was made to stop the nuisance of the cotton dust, &c., blowing into the neighbour's premises, and as it was found that the necessary works to prevent the nuisance could not be carried out under Rs. 5,000, and that a godown would eventually have to be built for storing cotton, &c., the directors deemed it to the interests of the company to purchase the property, measuring 5,955 2-9th square yards with two bungalows standing thereon, and succeeded in doing so on favourable terms, viz., Rs. 24,250, thereby paying the plaintiff's bill of costs amounting to Rs. 1,968-2. The directors have to report that by a resolution of the board passed on the 27th instant, 308 shares on which the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th calls and 31 shares on which the 3rd and 4th calls are unpaid have been declared forfeited for the benefit of the company. Notwithstanding such forfeiture, the shareholders, under clause 44 of the Articles of Association of the company, are still liable to pay all moneys due at the time of forfeiture, but the directors leave it to you to determine whether or not legal proceedings should be taken against the defaulting shareholders for the recovery of the amount of calls and interest due. Since the last general meeting, Messrs. F. Masotti and Ebbjee Oormersey were appointed by the board as directors, and you are asked to confirm the said appointments.

Resolutions were passed adopting the report, declaring a dividend of Rs. 10 on the old shares and Rs. 8¾ on the new shares, confirming the appointments of Messrs. Ebbjee Oomersey and F. Masotti as directors, re-appointing Messrs. Marjee Tooladas and Ebbjee Oomersey, and appointing as auditors Messrs. Pallonjee Framjee Mehta and Edward Cabral at a remuneration of Rs. 150 each. It was decided to forfeit the shares of those shareholders who have not paid their calls, and it was left to the discretion of the directors to act as they thought best with regard to the money thus due. A vote of thanks concluded the proceedings.

N.-W. PROVINCES, OUDH, AND PUNJAUB.

Mortality in the Punjaub.—The Sanitary Commissioner's report on the Punjaub mortality returns for the week ending the 4th October, shows that no less than 20,891 deaths were registered as due to fever; the total for the corresponding week of last year being under 5,000. The total deaths from all causes were 25,883; against 21,771 deaths registered in the same week of 1883. The figures for the week ending October 18th, show a distinct decrease in the number of deaths, both from all causes and from fever. In this week, the total deaths were 18,920 and the deaths, from fever 8,864.

THE FRANCO-GERMAN WAR.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN TONGKING.

Newspapers received from China yesterday contain accounts of severe fighting in Tongking. Referring to the attack on the French Gunboat Massue in the Lochnan river, on Oct. 3, a correspondent of the Hongkong mail writing from Haiphoy says:—

Her gallant Commander, Captain Challier, was shot dead on the spot, through the head, and not wounded as reported. It appears that she and the Hache had proceeded up the Lochnan, the former a good way ahead, when, all of a sudden, she was attacked by Chinese lying in ambush, and, in attempting to swing round, she got aground and there became the target for the Chinese rifles. It was at this moment that her Commander got shot, and that 21 of her crew and 10 marines got wounded. The remainder and, perhaps, the ship herself, might have fallen a prey to the enemy, had it not been for the timely assistance of the Hache and ultimately the Mousquiton, who came to her rescue.

The Correspondent adds:—The result was, that General de Negrier proceeded at once from Hanoi to Phuiang-thuong in the Carabine. At the same time all available infantry were sent on from Hanoi overland to Bacninh, taking there what more troops could be spared, marching on to Dap Cau, where they crossed the Song Cau and, finally, falling in with General de Negrier at Bhuiang-thuong, wherein the artillery had proceeded by gunboats from Hanoi.

Meanwhile another minor column of about 400 European soldiers and a couple of companies of Tonquin tirailleurs under command of Colonel d'Auliner had been despatched from Hanoi in the stern-wheel gunboat Eclair, accompanied by two or three smaller gunboats, to enter the Lochnan, for the purpose of preventing a junction by way of that river between the Chinese on the Longsan road, who had formed a line of defence on the Song Thuong, and those about Dongtrien, whose line of defence was on the Lochnan where they afterwards found no obstacle. When arrived at about the spot where the Massue had been so badly treated, the Colonel decided on landing. This was on the 6th; but when this was effected, to about one half, they were suddenly attacked by a large force of Chinese, supposed to number about 3,000. The landing was, however, completed under cover of the guns of the gunboats, when six hours' severe fight took place, from 10 in the morning till 4 in the afternoon, when the plucky little handful of men were masters of the positions, having driven the Chinese back with a loss estimated at about 1,000 killed. The French lost a young and gallant officer who had just been promoted to Captain a few days ago (nouvellement au choix,—his name was Bennet—Besides 6 officers wounded, 6 men killed and 26 wounded. The French had not artillery with them while the Chinese had 2 Krupp 7-inch guns, out of which they fired double shells full of grape shot, the same as has been in use in the French army for the last couple of years. It was silenced at last, but not before it had killed 3 and shot at it; the Chinese succeeded, however, in carrying it off. The Chinese are reported to have made a good stand on this occasion and charged the French several times. The Tonquin tirailleurs, on the contrary, are said to have shamefully misbehaved, even a large quantity ran away during the fight; they have not been brought into fire since; this shows rather a striking contrast to their Cochinchina brethren, who distinguished themselves so much during the last campaign.

In the meantime, General de Negrier, after having reduced the garrison at Phuiangthuong to the smallest dimensions, set out on the 7th from there with the column of about 3,000 men, on to the dreary and narrow road to Langson, writing to the Commander-in-chief that he would camp that night at Banloch, where he had information the Chinese headquarters were. On the approach of the French the Chinese withdrew towards Langkep, and the former slept at Banloch. Early next morning the French started in the direction of Langkep, which is a place about an hour's march in, amongst the first small hills one finds on the road to Langson. It is a market place, but of no importance, and is principally known from Li Yung Choi's time, the rebel chief who overran Upper Tonquin in 1878, 79 and 80, as this is the province where he turned back.

General de Negrier found about 6,000 Chinese regulars there on the morning of the 8th; they had fortified themselves, occupying an intrenched position. At first the Chinese made some violent attacks on the French, attempting to surround their wings, but were continually driven back with heavy losses, till after 4 hours' hard fighting from 9-30 a.m. to 2-30 p.m., the Chinese fled disbanded towards Dao Quan, being cut off from China by the Langson road and leaving in the hands of the French all their stores, horses, and mules. The Chinese here made a remarkable stand and with this time let themselves be surrounded before they would give way to hand fight took place, with revolvers, bayonets, and butt-ends. In one single place no less than 600 Chinamen were found, and since then over 900 left on the ground have been officially reported. With what they have carried off, as is their rule, their losses may be put down as a couple of thousand. The French losses are Captain Pi[illegible] also a young Captain of a few choix—and 50 killed, 8 officers and General himself and his staff wounded. The about 28 men wounded. The latter got a bullet wound through the ankle. Bu[illegible]sha at once. The French [illegible] and showed a decision of character in seizing the enemy's horses, which the latter no doubt partly chose to carry off their dead. Bacle, as amongst the stores which the French got gun case belonging to a Doctor, [illegible] the papers of a Dr. [illegible] then, also the papers of a Mr. [illegible] grenade of Europeans and was [illegible] The Commander-in-chief com[illegible] Negrier and his gallant offi[illegible] warmest terms, and, fearing that his hands had not arrived, more seriously wounded than [illegible] General Briere de l'Isle has proceeded himself and taken the command [illegible] Negrier has gone back to Dap Cau, or Bacninh for medical treatment.

A most important new feature seen in these two battles may be mentioned. Contrary to what we have seen in Tonquin on all other occasions through the lost campaign, a General could here be distinctly distinguished by his staff officers, with aides-de-camp taking orders about in various directions; also that no flags were exhibited.

The French pursued the Chinese towards Lochnan and the junction with Colonel d'Aulnar was thus formed. On the 10th they found the Chinese at Thion on the right bank of the Lochnan where they had very strongly fortified themselves in the same manner as at Bhuiang-thuong, i. e. in intrenchments dug in the ground and covered over with planks, earth and branches of trees, such intrenchments being supported by small forts of which there were 7 here. The French dislodged the Chinese and occupied their position, the latter having no artillery; but beyond 74 wounded that arrived here on the 12th no particulars of any kind have come to hand. The wounded, however, describe the battle as a very serious one and where for want of cartridges they had to take to the bayonet.

On the 13th another batch of 23 wounded arrived here; but they were mostly sailors out of the 31 wounded on the 3rd inst. on board of the Massue.

The Chinese seem to be making desperate efforts towards retaking the lost positions, and it is rumoured that on the 13th, they made an attempt either against Lang Kep or Thion, but the French having in the meanwhile taken up the positions and put their ordnance in place, they were repulsed with very heavy loss. This eagerness can be easily explained. In the first place they are anxious to again gain access to China by the Langson road, and secondly, being driven back into the mountains as they now are between Lang Kep and Dongtrien, which later means the French have occupied, means starvation. Their aim in occupying the lower hills all along from Lang Kep to Quangyen (in close vicinity to which several thousand Chinese have been seen) by way of Dongtrien was to lay in a store of rice all along through the Delta by pillaging the villagers right and left, as they have done for some time close down to Phulang-thuong, and about Longtrien and Quangyen.

Lang Kep is, as I said above, the last village on the hillside coming down from Bacle;—it is some 8 kilometres below Can Son, the look-out post for the rebels that usually occupy the Langson road and where the Song Thecong ceases to be navigable. These two facts, that neither the river nor the road allows any further, or at least only with immense difficulty, transport of artillery and war material, place Lang Kep in a natural position as avant-poste for rebels or others coming down through the narrow hilly road above. Thence they can pour down on the villages in the rice growing plains below, carry off the booty in shape of provisions, men, women and children and so suggested by the correspondent of the Times, what remarks apply to Dongtrien and the hills above Quangyen, and the present plan of the French, so long as no more troops have arrived and in the absence of authority from Paris, is simply to keep the Chinese workers within bullet range without pushing their positions any further than they are at present, says: Lang Kep, Thion Dongtrien and Quangyen.

So far but two deaths have occurred amongst the wounded brought down here, but several legs and arms have had to be amputated.

Some sad news reached here about a week ago from Hanoi. A Swiss gentleman, a Mr. Stocker, coming under the Government, had found that the gold mines said to exist West of the Day, about Mi Duc and Miluong, proceeded there to some time ago, escorted by a battalion of marine infantry under Lieutenant-Colonel de Mericon, and a Company of Tongking tirailleurs under Captain du Foulon. On their way back one day Mr. Stocker, with 25 Annamite tirailleurs, took a side path through some rice fields and ascended a small hill, at the request of the latter, who said he had in a good mark for some Chinese hidden about in the field, and he was shot dead on the spot, the bullet having gone through the head.

There is some apprehension, even in high official quarters, of an eventual rising of Chinese and Annamites alike shortly; and it is no wonder that the people are stirred up, when men like the celebrated Father Ten, to whom I referred in my last article, are allowed to travel overland from Hanoi with his hammocks, passing at any place they choose, instead of their being put on board a steam launch under escort and safely delivered on board their ships.

BLOCKADE OF FORMOSA PORTS.

A Government Gazette extraordinary, published this afternoon (20th inst.) contains a notification, signed by the French Council here, of the blockade of the ports of Formosa. It reads as follows:—

PROMEMORIA.

Les ports de Formose sont mis en état de blocus par les forces navales françaises sous le commandement du Vice-Amiral Coubert.

Leon Dejardin.

Hongkong, le 19 Octobre, 1884.

The above notification is the first official intimation that has been received from the French of the existence of war between France and China. It is a most important notification, inasmuch as it puts a stop to all trade with the whole of the Formosan ports, not only in contraband goods but in all the articles of commerce. Any neutral vessel now visiting the island will be liable to seizure and, although her cargo may be exempt from confiscation, the vessel herself will be a prize of war—that is presuming the blockade is a legitimate one, and we do not think it will be else on the part of any ship-owner practically to test that question.

ANTI-FOREIGN OUTBREAK AT WENCHOW.

Telegrams were received in Shanghai on the 10th October announcing a serious anti-foreign outbreak and riot at Wenchow. The missionary premises are demolished, and the community appears to have taken refuge in the British Consulate. Luckily there are not more than about eleven foreigners in the place. We hear that Mr. E. H. Parker the Consul for Great Britain, Austro-Hungary, Sweden and Norway, and the German Empire, sustained slight injuries. It is believed that a British man-of-war has since arrived in Wenchow. Nothing seems known of the origin of the riot, which broke out very suddenly.

The heads of the Canton Government have incurred considerable disgrace by their impetuous action in fulminating inflammatory placards. They have been censured by the Imperial authorities, and have also lowered themselves immensely in the eyes of all foreigners.

Strange to say, all the claims but those of the British for the rioting and looting of the Foreign Settlement at Canton in September last, have been paid.

A long and substantial-looking account of an alleged interview between the Hon. J. Russell Young, Minister of the United States to China, and Li Hung Chang, is reported in the N. C. D. News. In this interview the Chinese statesman is said to have indignantly refused to entertain any idea of China paying an indemnity and to have expressed a belief in the prowess of his own troops particularly and his countrymen generally

THE FRENCH REPULSE AT TAMSUI.

The news of the French repulse at Tamsui shows that the French force was but a very small one, only some 800 men, who were assaulted by a large force of Chinese troops under cover of trees and sandhills, and exposed to a galling fire which compelled them to retreat to their boats. The French bombardment of Tamsui had done considerable damage to the European houses. It is anticipated that the next landing will be made in much larger force and with artillery and machine guns sufficient to guard against ambuscade. The blockade of the Formosan ports, declared by Admiral Courbet, may however, though it will temporarily deprive the public of any but French accounts of their doings, bring about a settlement of the difficulty.

MANIFESTO BY THE TICHBORNE CLAIMANT.

The following manifesto was issued by the Tichborne Claimant soon after his release:—

"To the Electors of Great Britain and Ireland.

"Gentlemen,—For the last ten years and eight months have I had to suffer unjustly a sentence of penal servitude, determined upon before I was tried, and positively written out before the verdict was given against me. The spleen and malice which concocted the conspiracy against me pursued me even within the walls of Dartmoor Prison. For the first four years of my iniquitous imprisonment I was treated with harshness and rigour, and my friends who came a long distance to see me, and than whom there are not nobler or more honourable men in this country, had but the allotted twenty minutes every three months in which to converse with me, notwithstanding the enormous public importance of my case, and had it not been for the great interest you took in me, for which I can never be too grateful, there is no doubt I should not now be in the land of the living.

"Your enormous petitions to the Crown and Parliament have been spurned and derided, your voices have been contemned, and the resolutions of your public meetings thrown aside. Members of Parliament who promised you redress have shamefully broken their pledges. While listening to you upon subjects which would promote their own elevation to the Treasury and Judicial Benches, and while engaging in the iniquitous conflicts for party purposes and political power, they have despised your real wants and trampled upon your desires and demands for justice.

"Parliament has, by the introduction year after year of Bills to establish a Court of Criminal Appeal, confessed the imperfection of those laws of which I and so many others have been victims, and has proved its hypocrisy by discussing and approving of measures whose object is that of shelving them without adequate cause or excuse.

"At the public meetings I propose to address I will show how, and by what instruments and for what purposes, both minister and others, the libel has been accomplished. Not content with putting the country to enormous and unjustifiable expense in attempting to prove me what I am not, my enemies have not scrupled to malign me while in defenceless in prison, and to slander and libel my friends, whose character and position, however, I am happy to say, are far above the attacks of such villians.

"Law officers of the Crown, from the highest to the lowest, did not hesitate during my trial to use forged letters, to pack the jury, to bring false witnesses from abroad of the most loathsome character, to fabricate documents, and to resort to acts to suppress valuable evidence in my favour, to pay and keep witnesses out of the way, to put spies on my counsel's papers, and to threaten my witnesses, while the judge tried me over from the bench, prejudiced against me. On every page of the Chief Judge's summing up spleen and bias can be plainly observed while I myself heard an official of the Crown say in Court that unless the jury brought in a verdict against me they would not be paid. Since then several of the officers and Government witnesses have been by successive Governments prosecuted and convicted of various crimes. The particulars of those cases, and the circumstances under which Arthur Orton has been kept, and is still kept, out of the way in Australia, will be fully gone into in the course of my addresses and the way in which distinguished personages have been connected with the course of justice will be unsparingly exposed.

"In the fervent hope that by the discussion and advocacy of my case reforms will be enacted which will be of lasting benefit to the whole nation, as well as to myself, landan from Paris to Marseilles, a distance of about 540 miles, costs over £11, whilst for a similar distance in England the cost would not be a third. The silversmiths and bronze manufacturers also complain of such rates, but to them, they are not so much the cause of depression and obstruction to foreign competition as the high wages of the workmen, which amount to 80 per cent. in the cost price of bronze and silver articles. But though reduced rents and bad dividends may compel many persons to curtail their outlay, fashion has its victims in more than one branch of Parisian industry. The taste of to-day, which has reverted from the florid to the simple, has dealt some of the trading classes occupied with the most essentially French industries a heavy and almost fatal blow. Foremost amongst the number are the lace and trimming manufacturers, the artificial-flower makers, and the stained-paper merchants. The business of these men seems almost to belong to the past, and there are no artificial means by which it can be possibly regenerated. But fashion is not to be blamed for the enormous decrease in the boot trade, a decrease all the more astonishing when we consider that boots and shoes are amongst the necessaries of life. The explanation, however, is to be found in the diminished demand from foreign markets. To take an instance from ourselves; there was a time, which we all remember, when French boots, or boots so-called, were worn in England by all who could afford them. Now, we have learned the art of combining the finish and elegance of the French with our own solid workmanship and lasting materials, so that the home article is preferred to the foreign. Fancy buttons, which used to be sent from Paris to every country in Europe, find no sale in proportion with the supply. Italy, for instance, which used to buy them systematically from the French, now altogether manufactures them for herself. It is not necessary to dwell at length upon all the other trades which struggle painfully on; it will be sufficient to mention the distress of the clock-makers, jewellers, piano-manufacturers, cloth dealers buyers and cleaners, winemerchants, fancy turners, and carpenters, in order to give an idea of the commercial crisis at present in France.—National Review.

"THE PIANO FOR INDIA."
The experience of nearly thirty years proves that
S. ROSE AND CO.'S
SYMPATHETIC GRAND SQUARE PIANO'
is, par excellence, the best suited for the climate of India.
WE GUARANTEE EACH PIANO.
{"This piano was awarded a first-class certificate and medal of the Calcutta Exhibition."}
WE GUARANTEE EACH PIANO.

S. ROSE & Co., have supplied many hundreds of their noted Sympathetic Grand Square Pianofortes to residents in all parts of India. No one instance has occurred of a "Sympathetic" having given way; of course the action and mechanism will wear; but S. ROSE & Co., have seen "Sympathetics" which, after twenty years' use, have, after the entire action has been renewed, been as rich and beautiful in tone as when quite new.

All parts of the instrument have been studiously cared for in the manufacture; the external case being of solid mahogany, with ornamental fret work at the openings. In regard to tone and touch it is a first-rate instrument.

The term "Sympathetic" was first used to designate the character of tone. The term has been made use of by others without scruple, and many purchasers have paid for "Sympathetics" of a most doubtful quality, and which are not entitled to the name; but are merely inferior imitations.

Cash price, in solid Mahogany Case	...	...	...	Rs. 850
" " in solid Ebonized	...	...	...	" 900

S. ROSE & Co., have adopted the "One-Year Purchase-System" for the sale of their Sympathetic" Grand Square Pianofortes;—full particulars on application.
